Senate Proceedings.

Transactions of the Upper House of Congress.

THE FLORIDA SWAMP LANDS.

A Debate Between Senators Call and Plumb on the Subject—The Silcott Defalcation Comes Up in the House. Other Dispatches from the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The interesting feature of the proceedings in the senate yesterday was a brisk debate between Senators Call and Plumb on the Florida swamp lands resolutions. Among the executive communications presented to the senate yesterday was one from the president recommending the erection of consular buildings at Bangkok, Siam.

Mr. Call called up his resolution in relation to the claims of Florida under the swamp land grant and the alleged unlawful selection of land in Florida, on which he spoke at some length.

Mr. Plumb replying to Mr. Call said that the United States had granted to the state of Florida more than half the lands within its limits. Sixteen or eighteen million acres had been granted as swamp land, yet the senator from Florida said now that most of it was arable land. So much greater was the dereliction of the senator's state, if it had betrayed its trust. He, Mr. Plumb, would resign his seat in the senate, if he were to bring forward such a complaint against his own state, after being too cowardly to proclaim it on the stump within its borders. The United States lost jurisdiction of these lands when they were transferred.

It did not become the senator from Florida to impugn the motives of the committee members who had not agreed with him on this bill. The senator had asked him some sessions ago to report a bill to confirm the title to certain railroad lands. So the frauds were to be condoned under certain conditions but never in speech. He had frequently been inclined to convict the senator from Florida of falsehood, "but," he said, "there are some accusations which are lost on the accuser."

Mr. Call, "I will not be moved, Mr. President, by this extraordinary example of the senator from Kansas to follow his bad manners of his contemptible methods. He cannot have a poorer opinion of me than I have of the senator from Kansas. I have not been in the habit of violating the rules of debate and discussion. But if the senator thinks by his idle bravado, by his defense of this vast spoliation of the public domain in the interest of those who have profited by it, that he can intimidate me from defending the rights of the people of my state, I treat him with scorn and the contempt that he deserves. The senator from Kansas has spoken without the truth. My record in the state of Florida is my own. There is no boodler there whom he defends who does not attack me in similar language and denunciation such as he has used to-day."

Further, Mr. Call said that Senator Plumb was shamefully ignorant of the subject, and that it was disreputable to the senate that it should have as chairman of the committee on public lands "a senator who not only defends the interests of the boodlers, but shows his ignorance of the subject specially committed to him."

Mr. Dolph justified the action of the public lands committee in the last congress, in respect to a like resolution of Mr. Call's, and Mr. Call disclaimed any desire to cast an imputation on the committee.

The senate went into secret session, and at 4 o'clock adjourned.

Proceedings of the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—In the house Mr. McKinley reported a bill to simplify the collection of the revenue. A number of bills were introduced and referred.

Mr. Perkins, of Kansas, moved that the house go into committee of the whole for the consideration of the bill to provide for town site entries in Oklahoma. The motion was lost, and Mr. Adams called up the Silcott report, with the bill to reimburse members for losses incurred through Silcott's defalcation.

Mr. Adams addressed the house, holding that the sergeant-at-arms was a public officer charged with the duty of disbursing the salaries of members. He referred to the defalcation which occurred in the Twenty-second congress, and to the fact that the house at that time voted to reimburse the members out of the contingent fund. The question was whether members were to blame for signing their receipts, and should forfeit their money for so doing. The new members had signed their receipts before they had any legislative power to change the law, and he could not see how an old member could vote against an appropriation to pay them.

On an inquiry by Mr. Butterworth, whether any member believed that the sergeant-at-arms was his personal agent, Mr. Adams said he thought that there was no such member.

Mr. Hemphill, of South Carolina, advocated the adoption of his bill permitting members to bring suit in the court of claims for the recovery of their salaries. Mr. Hemphill opposed the bill of the majority because he could find no statute making the sergeant-at-arms a disbursing officer.

Mr. Holman contested the proposition that the sergeant-at-arms was a disbursing officer, and contended that the fund remaining in the sergeant-at-arms' safe—about $83,000—should be divided pro rata among members who were losers by the defalcation.

Mr. Blount spoke in support of the bill of the majority, and pending further debate the house at 5 p. m. adjourned.

CONSTRUCTION TRAIN WRECKED.

A Score of Men Injured, Three Probably Fatally.

CHATHAM, Mass., Jan. 15.—A construction train consisting of an engine showing in front two box cars filled with men bound for their work near Tilbury Center, collided yesterday with a flat car which was an engine and derrick known as a bridge traveler. The traveler telescoped the foremost box car, severely injuring a score of men.

The most severely hurt were: David Cummings, badly crushed, serious; Fred Dawson, hips crushed, back hurt, critical; John Tracey, ribs broken, back hurt; John Gray, leg crushed, head badly cut; Samuel Videl, ribs broken; F. W. Nichols and Thomas McCumming, chest crushed; Robert Armstrong, ribs broken; Alfred Lehtbridge, leg crushed; D. Black, collar-bone broken.

The injured men were brought to Chatham and given speedy medical attention. All will recover except the first three named who may die.

HYDROPHOBIA FROM A CAT BITE.

Horrible Death of a Young Lady at Dayton, Tenn.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 15.—Some weeks ago two young ladies in Dayton, Tenn., were bitten by a pet cat. As a matter of precaution, rather than a real fear of fatal consequence, they came to this city, where a madstone was applied to the wounds of each lady.

The stone acted in the traditional way, and drew from the bitten places a dark green fluid, and the sufferers returned home with their minds at rest. Yesterday one of the young ladies, Miss Ida Spence, died of hydrophobia. She was lovely and accomplished, and the daughter of a prominent family. In her last hours her eyes glittered wildly, froth came from her mouth, and at intervals she uttered sounds like the growling of an angry cat.

Killed Him by Mistake.

DAWSON, Ga., Jan. 15.—Miss Lulu Ray, a pretty woman residing in the outskirts of the city, shot and instantly killed H. A. Suggs, of this county, Thursday night. Judge Statham, with a jury, held an inquest on the body, resulting in a verdict of "involuntary manslaughter." In her sworn statement Miss Ray said that Suggs came to her door about 11 o'clock at night, drunk, and demanded admittance, which she refused. He continued to knock on the door and curse her for nearly half an hour. At last she picked up a pistol from the bureau and shot at the door to frighten him away. When she looked through the door she saw that he was dead. In the morning she delivered herself up. Suggs was a middle-aged man, with a wife and six children, some of them grown and married.

Clothing Merchant Suicides.

HAMILTON, O., Jan. 15.—John Maas, aged 65, a prominent clothing merchant here, shot himself with a revolver yesterday morning and died instantly at his bedside. He has several children, one of whom, Attorney Julius H. Maas, resides in Cincinnati. His children claim that his death resulted from the accidental handling of a revolver, but it is the general belief that he killed himself through despondency. He was the proprietor of the Standard Tailoring company, and a prominent Mason. He attended the meeting of the Masons Monday evening and was in good spirits.

Four Children Suffocated by Smoke.

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 15.—Four children were suffocated yesterday evening by smoke in the house of a Pole named Rogalowski. When the firemen arrived at the scene and broke into the house the four little ones, aged respectively 5, 4, 3 and one and a half years were found in a dying condition, and all efforts to save their lives were unavailing. The mother when she went out washing left them in charge of her brother, who became intoxicated, it is supposed, and accidentally set fire to the bed with his pipe.

A One-Sided Report.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 15.—The committee appointed by the state board of education to investigate charges of cruel treatment against children in the state home and school by Superintendent M. C. Healy, reported yesterday that the charges are not sustained. Several persons who brought the charges against the superintendent have declared through the press that they were not given an opportunity before the committee.

Representative Lawlor Worse.

NEWARK, O., Jan. 15.—The favorable symptoms in the condition of Hon. John B. Lawlor have not been kept up, and last night there was another change for the worse. He passed a very restless night, and his condition is much worse, and fear is felt that he will not again rally. Rev. Father W. F. Hayes was called to the sick room, and the worst is feared. It is believed the end is very near.

A City in Darkness.

MT. VERNON, O., Jan. 15.—This city was in darkness last night on account of the partial destruction of the electric light house. The building is built on filled ground which gave way and almost demolished the building. The machinery was so disarranged that it was utterly useless.

Same Rate for Block Coal.

BRAZIL, Ind., Jan. 15.—The block coal operators of this district have determined not to pay any more for the mining of block coal than is paid for the mining of any other Indiana coal. This move was made known Monday evening through a card issued to the miners of this district.

Electric Light Fire.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 15.—Electric light wires running into the large music store of the John Church company, on Fourth street, near Vine, caused a destructive blaze in that establishment shortly before 1 o'clock this morning. The loss will reach about $2,000.

A Blizzard on Deck.

Piercing Winds and Blinding Snows

THROUGHOUT THE NORTHWEST.

Snow Drifts Twenty Feet High and Train and Wagon Traffic at a Standstill. Great Damage in the Pennsylvania Oil Region.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 15.—Severe weather is reported generally throughout the northwest. A blizzard is raging at Beardsley, Minn., the drifts being piled twenty feet high. A piercing north wind accompanies the storm. Train and wagon traffic is at a standstill. The first great storm of the season has struck Grand Rapids, extending all over the upper Mississippi region.

At New Salem the very air was darkened with falling snow, and pedestrians could not see their hands before them. At Wabasha, thirteen inches of snow has fallen. The highways are seriously blocked, and trains are behind time. From Neche, N. Dak., comes an account of a veritable blizzard, which raged for thirty-seven hours, rendering all travel impossible through the heavy drifts.

Worst of the Season.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 15.—A genuine blizzard, the worst of the season, raged over the northwest the whole of Monday and part of yesterday, knocking out telegraph wires, delaying all trains, and retarding the operations of loggers in the pines.

Dispatches from the principal points in the Dakotas and Montana, and as far west as Spokane Falls, Wash., are to the effect that on the average the snow fell about ten inches on the level, and drifted badly, owing to the strong winds, approaching a hurricane, which prevailed.

Among the railroads a vast difference in the effects of the storm is found. The Manitoba, Northern Pacific and Northern Wisconsin division of the Omaha all report little drifting. The Sioux City, or southern division of the Omaha, is suffering from usual drifts. The river division of the Milwaukee was not affected, but the Iowa and Minnesota and Hasting and Dakota divisions are badly drifted.

The Minneapolis and St. Louis and the Kansas City, too, are somewhat covered up, the former rather worse than the latter. The worst drifting, however, appears to be those lines running through northern Iowa and southwestern Minnesota.

Destitution at Wickliffe.

CARMO, Ill., Jan. 15.—The loss of property at Wickliffe by the cyclone amounts to $12,000. A meeting of citizens was held here to raise money and food for Wickliffe and Clinton.

Great damage is being done on the Wabash river by the flood. The eastern portion of the town of Carmi, Ill., on the Little Wabash, is flooded ten feet deep, and twenty-five families, mostly colored people, are homeless. The water is higher than ever known before.

Havoc in the Oil Regions.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 15.—The severe wind storm played havoc with the oil interests of the state. Great numbers of derricks were destroyed, and in some sections the loss has been so great that all work on drilling wells has been suspended, owing to the loss of derricks. The wretched condition of the roads makes it impossible to get lumber to the wells to repair the damage done by the storm, and operations are practically suspended.

Chicago Asked for Aid.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The mayor of Chicago received a dispatch from Wickliffe, Ky., asking for assistance for the persons made homeless by the tornado of the 12th inst. "From fifty to sixty houses were wrecked," said the appeal, "and many people are homeless without a dollar."

Rough Voyage of the La Bourgogne.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The steamer La Bourgogne, from Havre, at this port, experienced very heavy weather throughout the passage. She met with an accident in the channel which delayed her sixteen hours. On Sunday, the 6th inst., at 1:30 p. m., she was in collision with the British steamer Corridon. La Bourgogne had her bows stove. The Corridon also received serious damage. The saloon passengers presented Capt. Fraugel and his officers with a set of resolutions for their skillful management in bringing the ship through a voyage of extraordinary severity.

Senator E. K. Wilson Re-Elected.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 15.—The senate and house met in joint session yesterday and re-elected Ephraim E. Wilson, Democrat, United States senator for the term of years, beginning March 4, 1891. The Republican members cast their votes for the Hon. Thomas S. Hodson, of Somerset county. Mr. Wilson is the particular representative of the Eastern shore in the upper house of congress, a peculiar state law requiring that one of the two United States senators shall be an eastern shoreman.

Johnstown Flood Commission.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—The Johnstown flood commission meets here today, when the final report of the secretary will be submitted. The report will show the distribution of nearly $1,500,000, and the question of the disposition of $200,000 remaining on hand will be one of the important matters to be decided at the meeting.

A Victory for Workmen.

BIRDSBURG, Pa., Jan. 15.—The strike in the rail factory of the Brooke Iron company has resulted in a victory for the workmen. The firm has agreed to restore the 10 per cent. taken from the wages of the men four months ago. The firm has also voluntarily increased the wages of puddlers to $3.7 per ton.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

Minister Fatally Wounded While Riding the Masonic Goat.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Jan. 15.—A sad accident has befallen the Masonic fraternity of this city. At the meeting of the lodge last Friday night Rev. Mr. Johnson, of the Methodist church, and Rev. Marshall, of the Episcopal church, were candidates for the Royal Arch degree. In conferring this degree it is necessary that the candidate be lowered into a vault-like room by a block and tackle. The vault is about thirteen feet deep. When Mr. Johnson, who was a heavy man, was swung over the open trap by the initiating committee preparatory to lowering him, the rope broke and he fell to the bottom.

He was at once removed and it was learned he had suffered severe, but it was not supposed fatal injuries. He never lost consciousness until Saturday afternoon, when he sank into a comatose state from the effects of the powerful opiates administered to alleviate his sufferings. Sunday morning about 10 o'clock he passed peacefully away.

Before losing consciousness, although in great agony, he assured those around him that he held the members entirely blameless, as his injuries had resulted purely from an unseen and unavoidable accident. He also said, in case of his death, he desired the lodge to suppress none of the details concerning the accident.

Naturally the reports of the accident created intense excitement in Huntington. The Masons made no effort to keep the details secret, and, on the contrary, took especial pains to explain fully the manner in which the accident happened. Particular stress was laid on the fact that the utmost dignity is preserved throughout the ceremony, and that nothing savoring in the slightest of levity or practical joking is permissible. The result is that the intelligent and larger part of the community acquits the lodge of any blame.

His remains were taken to Missouri for burial.

MARRIED IN FUN.

But the Young People Find Themselves Legally Bound for Life.

FORT VALLEY, Ga., Jan. 15.—A supposed bogus marriage ceremony, in which two young society people officiated, is about to turn out a reality. A couple called on the Rev. B. L. Ross, at his residence Thursday night, and asked to be married instantly, as the bride's parents objected.

The bridegroom produced a license issued by O. P. Wright, ordinary of Crawford county, authorizing the marriage of a Mr. Murcherson and Miss Burnett. They were accompanied by J. Byron Hall, of the Harris house, who said the couple had just arrived on the Atlanta and Florida train and were in a hurry to marry.

Dr. Ross invited them in, but they refused, saying they were just from a mask ball and had on their costumes, and as Mr. Hall was with them Dr. Ross proceeded to perform the ceremony in the dark. It has since become known that the parties to the affair were W. H. Harris and Miss Phoebe Skellie. The young couple are greatly troubled over their adventure, now that the marriage proves binding. The license, too, was a forgery.

SLEPT HERSELF TO DEATH.

Remarkable Case of a Young Lady at Danville, Ill.

DANVILLE, Ill., Jan. 15.—On New Year's Day Miss Carrie Barous, a young lady 21 years old, and the daughter of John Barous, complained of drowsiness and went to bed. She immediately fell asleep. Several hours afterwards, when called by her mother, she did not awaken. The family came into the room, but all efforts to arouse the sleeping girl were futile. Physicians were called, but they did not pronounce the case dangerous.

It was thought to be hysteria, or that the girl was feigning sickness. She could not be awakened sufficiently to take medicine, and it had to be forced down her throat during the many hours that she was lying almost lifeless. She did not apparently lose flesh. Her cheeks had a ruddy, healthy glow. The only motion she made was the occasional turning of the head. Her respiration was scarcely perceptible. She suffered no pain. Her death, which was a great surprise to her family and medical attendants, occurred Sunday night.

Monument for Andrews' Raiders

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 15.—A contract was closed here last night for a monument to be erected by the state of Ohio in the National cemetery, at Chattanooga, in memory of the Andrews raiders. It is to be made of blue Western granite, with appropriate emblem on the pedestal, and surmounted in bronze by a duplicate of the locomotive "general" of the Western and Atlantic road, over which the raid was made.

Damaged by a Burst Fly-Wheel.

MARTIN'S FERRY, O., Jan. 15.—The fly-wheel in the Laughlin mill works burst yesterday, damaging the mill to the extent of $2,000. Seth Howell, blacksmith, was struck by a flying fragment and seriously injured while eating dinner. The mill, employing 600 hands, cannot resume for three or four weeks.

The Grave of President Lincoln's Mother.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 15.—Some person has recently erected a neat marble slab and placed an iron fence around the grave of Abraham Lincoln's mother, in Spencer county, Ind. The grave has been unmarked for years save by a dog-wood tree, which has grown up since her burial.

Four People Drowned.

CARMI, Ill., Jan. 16.—While out boat riding in a lake, about fourteen miles southeast of Carmi, Sunday afternoon, Misses Lou Asbury and Lizzie Bowles and Will Rose and Daniel Asbury were drowned. They were all young people, living near the lake.

"TROUBLE IN CHURCH."

The Sensational Telegram From Flemingsburg a Base Falsehood.
A Card From Rev. R. M. Rabb.

Editor Bulletin: "Trouble in Church." This caption is borne by a telegram from Flemingsburg that appeared in the Courier-Journal the 10th inst. As a production, the article, in all respects, is one of the most perfect lies ever fabricated by the human intellect. Every sentence is a falsehood, either by defect or misrepresentation. The author who sent forth this flock of ungainly crows has merited the distinction of a prince of liars.

The public would be led to believe, from the telegram referred to, that during the week of prayer at Flemingsburg, Ky., a quarrel took place between the Presbyterian and Baptist preachers, at the Methodist Church. The occasion was, the Presbyterian preacher "introduced the articles of faith of his church." "He was interrupted by the Baptist minister, and on their knees the two preachers fought over the doctrines of their respective churches, etc., etc." It is claimed that the affair promised to end in blows, when the Methodist preacher arose and quelled the tumult. But the facts of the case are as follows:

1. The pastor of the Baptist Church was thirty-five miles away on the night indicated, and was not in the union prayer meeting till Thursday following.

2. The Baptist pastor has never at any time had a word of dispute with the Presbyterian pastor at Flemingsburg, or with any other associated pastor of a different denomination.

3. The union prayer meetings, instead of closing as the said article claimed on Monday night, continued most pleasantly till Saturday night, being held alternately in the four Protestant churches in town.

I make this statement that friends may be disabused of the maliciously false impression the Courier's article would engender.

R. M. RABB,
Pastor of Baptist Church,
Flemingsburg, Ky.
Millersburg, Ky., Jan. 13, 1890.

A meeting of the citizens of Flemingsburg, irrespective of denomination, was held Saturday evening, at which resolutions denouncing the base slander were adopted, and the following issued for publication:

"The Protestant denominations represented here are the M. E. Church, South, Rev. John Reeves, pastor; the Christian, J. W. McGarvey, Jr., pastor; the Presbyterian, Rev. James P. Hendrick, D. D., pastor; the Baptist, Rev. R. M. Rabb, pastor. The pastors and the people of these congregations have united in the observance of the week of prayer, the services being held alternately in the house of worship of each denomination. Each service has been largely attended, and the utmost Christian courtesy and good will not to say brotherly love, have characterized each meeting, beginning at the Methodist Church on Sunday night, January 5th, and closing at the Baptist Church Saturday night, January 11. There has never been the slightest discourtesy or ill-will between any of these pastors or their respective denominations, but, on the contrary, the spirit of unity and fraternal good will has characterized the respective denominations, pastors and people alike, to a marked degree."

Russian sable is the fashionable fur for trimming when it can be afforded. Equally fashionable and not so costly are Hudson Bay sable and mink, lynx and fox furs. Alaska sable makes a good serviceable trimming, and where gray fur is desired chinchilla is suggested.

MOUNT SUPERSTITION.

A QUEER PEAK IN ARIZONA THAT THE APACHES FIGHT SHY OF.

A Gentleman with a Taste for Roaming Makes an Investigation and Finds a Natural Electric Battery—Rude Smelter of the Prehistoric Inhabitants.

Some twenty odd miles due east from Phoenix, the capital of Arizona territory, rises abruptly the Superstition mountain, which forms a very prominent landmark, as it can be seen for a long distance in any direction.

On the summit of Superstition mountain, and at the extreme western edge, overlooking the rocky bluffs, 200 and 300 feet in height, are the ruins of an old stone fort, such as are frequently found in Arizona at points where a good view of the surrounding country is afforded. About an acre of land, or rather rock, is within this inclosure. In this connection, and as the name of the mountain would indicate, is an Indian legend, and the place is held, even at the present time, in a degree of veneration and awe by the tribes of that section of Arizona so great as to prevent any of their members hunting on or visiting it.

In the fall of 1883 P. C. Bicknell, who still resides in Phoenix, and who is a thoroughly educated gentleman, with a taste for roaming through the mountains and a penchant for archaeological research, paid a visit to a friend—a cattle man residing on the Salt River—for the purpose of enjoying a brief period of recreation in hunting, fishing and the pursuit of his studies in nature. It occurred to him one day to visit the summit of Superstition mountain, which, although four or five miles distant, could easily be accomplished before night. Taking his rifle and a canteen of water, Mr. Bicknell set out, and after a long walk and a laborious climb reached his objective point in the afternoon.

A LIVING LINE OF FIRE.

He saw nothing remarkable within the inclosure of the fallen walls. Some stone axes, hammers and broken pieces of pottery were scattered about, but as they were of the usual patterns found in all Arizona ruins they did not arouse especial interest. In one corner of the old fort, and nearly covered with fallen rock, he encountered a rude furnace, evidently used for the smelting of ores. Anxious to discover the use of what metal the prehistoric inhabitants had knowledge, he set about removing the stones. The work was very tedious and laborious, and, being absorbed with interest, he paid no attention to the flight of time. Finally he was rewarded by securing a piece of slag and also a specimen of ore which had not been subjected to treatment, and was surprised to find that the mineral was copper. Having settled this matter to the satisfaction of his own mind, Mr. Bicknell arose and cast a look to the west, to discover that the sun was then sinking behind the range of distant mountains.

This did not disturb him much, however, so he built a fire, roasted a rabbit which he had killed on his way up, and made such preparations as were possible to spend the night comfortably on the mountain. After sundown the atmosphere became quite sultry, and, as there was every indication of a thunder storm, Mr. Bicknell concluded that he would not remain within the walls of the old fort, as the rain was liable to drive from the loose rocks rattlesnakes, centipedes and poisonous insects of various kinds. Therefore he selected for his sleeping place a remarkably smooth rock, about twenty yards in front of the east wall. Putting his hobnail shoes under his head for a pillow, Mr. Bicknell, somewhat exhausted from his long stroll and excitement, soon fell into a deep sleep.

Some time afterward he was suddenly awakened by a sharp electric shock which seemed to pass from the back of his neck downward. Managing to scramble to his feet he ran some distance to the east, and, looking back to his sleeping place, was surprised to see a living line of fire or lightning running across the mountain from north to south. Never having seen "ground lightning" before, Mr. Bicknell was very naturally awe stricken and astounded, but he was more than surprised when, recovering from his bewilderment, he noticed that the electric storm had not passed over the mountain, but was at distant, apparently, as when he first lay down. The phenomenon lasted but a few moments, but its duration was sufficient for the explorer.

Upon returning to the camp next morning Mr. Bicknell related his experience, which was received with evident incredulity. However, he induced one of the men to accompany him to the mountain a few days afterward. They reached the summit about noon, and the weather was very warm. The men were standing upon the smooth spot which Bicknell had selected for a couch, and he was explaining about his shock, when, with simultaneous impulse, they both sprang forward and gazed into each other's faces in mute interrogation. Subsequent explanation showed that each had experienced a well defined electric shock, as though by a light current from a galvanic battery. Mr. Bicknell at once concluded that he would solve the mystery, and set about doing so, although his companion was most anxious to leave the dread spot. The investigations then begun, and subsequently completed, led to the following discoveries:

On the north side of the precipice was a large dyke of pyritous iron, running east and west, and on its south wall the mineral appeared in the form of protosulphates, or what is commonly known as copperas. In the latter there was a small, irregularly shaped hole several feet in depth, into which water was slowly slipping from a small spring on a slight eminence some yards distant. This water was strongly impregnated with salt. From this pot hole and extending across the mountain top were a number of small veins, or stringers, of copper ore, almost pure in their native state, which terminated, to all appearances, in a heavy ledge of calc spar, bearing galena and a small percentage of gold, running parallel with the copper lead, but on the opposite brink of the bluff. The copper stringers connecting the ledges were evidently what is known in prospectors' parlance as a "blow out," and rested on malpais—a kind of glassy slag produced by volcanic heat. Here was a positive and a negative pole, connected with a good electric conductor, and a chemical decomposition taking place that would produce a strong battery. With a jar of the copper stringers, produced by atmospheric electrical disturbances or a number of persons stepping upon them, why might not a current be induced sufficiently strong as to become destructive to animal life? But simply the facts are given, and the scientific reader is at liberty to evolve his own theories.

Review of the Money, Stocks and Cattle Quotations for Jan. 14.

Money on call was easy and loaned at 6 per cent. throughout the morning. Currency rates, 116 bid; four coupons, 126 bid; four-and-a-half, do 104½ bid.

The stock market this morning was very dull. The excitement and large dealings of the past several days in the coal stocks were absent to-day, and the trading in them was confined to comparatively small lots. The general tone of speculation was weak. The coal stocks, Atchison, Wisconsin Central and the Sugar Trusts absorbed the greater part of the little trading done. Prices went down with but little interruption throughout the morning, and at noon were ½ to 1½ per cent. lower.

THE good people of Flemingsburg should see that the Courier-Journal suppresses its Joe Mulhatton correspondent at that point. He is doing the town no good by sending out such sensational telegrams as that referred to elsewhere in this issue.

DR. STRODE is able to attend to business again, after a lively tussle with la grippe, pink eye, epizootic, dengue, or whatever the thing is. Mr. Harry B. Owens has resumed his studies at the Literary Institute at Suffield, Conn.

Railway News.

The Lake Shore is understood to have $2,000,000 cash on hand.

The new freight cars that have been constructed are largely of superior strength as well as greater carrying capacity. The railroads of this country, within the next six months, will be better equipped than any railroad system in the world for the business they have to handle.

The Ohio and Big Sandy Railroad has thirty gondolas and one hundred coal cars building at the Ensign Car Works, at Huntington, W. Va. Since the Chattahoochee has been incorporated as the Ohio and Big Sandy, and has gone into the hands of Huntington, an air of thrift and progress has stamped itself upon that institution.

Si Perkins.

"Si Perkins, or the Girl I Left Behind Me," as presented at the Academy of Music last evening by Mr. Frank Jones and his company, was decidedly amusing. The play itself while abounding in fun and making little pretension to sentiment, is entirely devoid of coarseness or anything approaching vulgarity, but is clean and unexceptionable throughout. Frank Jones is a comedian possessing that somewhat uncommon discrimination which enables him to preserve the distinction between humor and grossness. His impersonation of Si Perkins is an original conception, differing essentially from any other of the various eccentric character sketches to which our play-goers have heretofore been treated, and displays a quaintness and a mingled simplicity and acuteness not easily described. The Agitator Thrashing Machine in full operation was a novel and realistic feature introduced with good effect, and in short the whole performance was one calculated to please any lover of clean, wholesome comedy.—Exchange.

At opera house next Saturday night. Reserved seat tickets now on sale at Taylor's.

MR. PHIL YAGO and son Frank have gone to Cincinnati, where they have accepted positions with the Easton-Clark Carriage Factory.

H. C. Lifer, of Falmouth, has been up on a visit to his friends in Mason. He is looking well and is still driving a good horse.

Several of our prudent farmers are waiting for winter to open that they may have a chance to slay their porkers and save their bacon. Frost is in the air.

We regret to hear of the illness of Dr. H. L. Parry, of Mayslick. By the long and faithful and successful practice of his profession he has gained the name and reputation of "the good physician."

Rev. Tom Daniel, of Richmond, recently held a very successful meeting at Mayslick. He left a deep impression, and it is likely he will be called to the pastorate of the Baptist Church, should Rev. Cody accept the call to Georgetown.

Rev. J. W. Bullock was on a surprise visit Sunday last to his friends at Mayslick. He came out to let them see he was still living, notwithstanding he recent historical address numbering him among those who "climbed the golden stairs."

Dr. Lawwill has purchased a four-hundred-acre farm near Danville, and will remove to that point this spring. Being a great educational center, the Doctor is attracted thither by the fact that he has a half dozen stalwart and bright sons to educate.

Affairs in Portugal.

Senor Pimental Forms a New Cabinet.

ALL LEADING FACTIONS UNITED.

The Settlement of the South East African Question Now the One Great Subject Before the People—Heavy Death Rate in London—Other Foreign News.

LISBON, Jan. 15.—Senor Pimental has succeeded in composing a ministry, as follows: Premier and minister of the interior, and ad interim minister of war, Pimental; minister of justice, Loyronaz; minister of finance, Branco; minister of marine, Arroyo; minister of foreign affairs, Ribiero; minister of public works, Aronco.

Senor Pimental made all possible haste to form a Portuguese ministry to succeed Senor Gornes and his conferees, and his efforts were accelerated by the monarchist fear of the worst of the political consequence, is likely to arise from the surrender of the Gornes' ministry to the demands of the English government. The reckless temper of the people as evinced by their resentment of the government's action in fateful warfare upon the British consulate at Oporto, is also an element of alarm to the monarchist organization, in that it exposes the state to reprisals for the acts of irresponsible rioters and renews the tension between Lisbon and London.

There is a striking unanimity of agreement on the part of the representatives of the Monarchist and Republican parties and factions in Lisbon that nothing should stand in the way of the immediate formation of a ministry to deal with the not yet satisfactorily settled question in southeast Africa, pending the consideration of which internal matters are forgotten or held in abeyance. For the moment, at least the Monarchists, Republicans, Socialists and Anarchists alike have sunk political, social and economic questions deep beneath the waves of patriotism that now surge over the country and are simply Portuguese. Nevertheless the Monarchists realize the value of expeditious action, and for this reason if for no other the statesmen invited to associate themselves with Senor Pimental will display little hesitation to accept the responsibility of confronting them. At Coimbra yesterday a mob composed of students and others, marched through the streets howling and denouncing the English, and completed their riotous demonstrations by burning the British flag.

Stanley Decorated.

CAIRO, Jan. 15.—The khedive has decorated Stanley with the Order of the Medjidieh. Stanley says that Lulu Pasha is animated by a desire to serve the government, and suggests that he be given an appointment, which to him would be the best medicine that could be prescribed. Stanley's suggestion is that he be employed in a purely administrative capacity in Suakin. Wady Halfa or elsewhere, believing that his presence would have a conciliatory effect on the natives. Stanley considers the wisdom of the Congo route as having been incontestably proved.

Heavy Mortality in London.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The returns of the registrar of births and deaths for the last week show that the mortality during that period was 2,747, which is eighty-one above the average. Of these deaths sixty-seven were primarily due to influenza and 1069 to diseases of the respiratory organs. The latter figures are 522 above the weekly average of deaths from the causes indicated. The Princess of Wales is among the latest victims of the influenza.

Strikers Celebrate Their Victory.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The victory of the Charlevoix strikers was celebrated at that place yesterday by 20,000 men, who paraded the streets with bands of music, red flags, banners, etc., singing, cheering and shouting. The police were out in full force, but there was no attempt at violence, the only duty devolving upon the guardians of the peace being that of confining the joyful ebullitions of stragglers within the limits of the thoroughfares.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The $125,000 prize in the Panama canal lottery has been drawn by M. Ephrussi, a wealthy banker of Paris.

National Guard Officers.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 15.—At the annual meeting of the National Guard association of Ohio, held yesterday, the following officers were chosen to serve for the ensuing year: President, Gen. Morton L. Hawkins; first vice president, John L. Gibbons, fifth infantry; second vice president, Maj. Scott Martin, ninth battalion; recording secretary, Lieut. A. C. Caine, first artillery; corresponding secretary, Maj. Henry A. Gintner, fourth; treasurer, Col. John C. Entekin, sixth; chaplain, Rev. John Coffman, eighth; executive committee, Col. W. R. Smith, first infantry, and Col. E. J. Pocock, of the Seventeenth; legislative committee, Maj. E. B. King, of the Sixteenth, Maj. E. C. Brush, of the first artillery, and Lieut. Col. H. H. Williams, of the Third.

Shops Shutting Down.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 15.—On Saturday the Erie Railroad company reduced its working force in all its shops. At Port Jervis thirty men were laid off and discharges upon a like scale occurred in the shops all along the line to Dunkirk. It is understood that other discharges are to follow. The explanation is had in the low demand for coal occasioned by the unseasonable winter, which is fairly paralyzed by the coal trade.

Heavy Death Rate in New York. NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The 1,411 deaths in this city during last week represent a death rate of 46.24 per 1,000, against 39.31 the week before, and 24.79 for the corresponding week of 1889.

A Dangerous Pipe.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 15.—George Yearling, a Franklin county farmer, was nearly burned to death in his buggy by a fire from his pipe being blown into his clothing.

A STREET DUEL, In Which Three Persons Were Shot, One Fatally.

MACON, Ga., Jan. 15.—Three persons in the streets of Macon were shot yesterday afternoon. Dr. W. G. Larabee was shot through the right shoulder and leg, S. M. Wiggins through the groin, and Deputy Sheriff Polson through the body. Polson's wound is believed to be fatal.

The trouble occurred over a bill which Dr. Norris claimed Dr. Larabee owed for drugs. Dr. Norris says: "I presented the bill to him in the street, and he denied receiving some of the articles. Later he came in the drug store, and in a very ugly tone said he wanted to see about the bill. I told one of the clerks to get the books and explain matters to him, and if there was anything wrong, to correct it. The charge he objected to was in my handwriting, and he said the whole business was wrong."

"I showed him his prescription and he could say no more. He said I ought to charge the drugs to the people he bought them for. I told him that the man who would make such a proposition was dishonest, and ordered him to leave the store. He left, and armed himself, and then returned. He called me out and then drew a revolver and began firing at me. My son, Mason Norris, followed, and as Larabee fired, Mason drew his pistol and fired three shots and struck Dr. Larabee twice."

An eye-witness says Dr. Larabee's first shot missed Norris and struck Deputy Sheriff Polson in the body. A bullet from young Norris' pistol struck Wiggins. Larabee shot four times, and Norris three. They stood ten feet apart, and neither flinched. Larabee's shooting was very wild, and everybody in the street ran in a panic when Polson fell.
